

2017 Multifamily Executive Awards

Eligibility

Eligible submissions include projects that opened for occupancy between July 1, 2015, and Dec. 1, 2016, as well as activities and programs in progress during that time. Buildings that have opened only for pre-leasing are ineligible. Projects with a grand opening date after this time period are still eligible, as long as residents were permitted to live on the premises during the final phases of construction. Programs and initiatives must have begun during this time, but it is OK if they are ongoing. Entries are limited to projects in the U.S. and executives and initiatives from U.S. companies. Vendors are not permitted to enter the contest. Entries that have previously won an MFE Award may not be re-entered.

Deadlines

Early Bird deadline: April 7, 2017

Final Deadline: April 28, 2017

Fees No refunds will be issued

Single entry: $100

Three or more entries: $75 each

Late Fee (applies to entries registered after April 7, 2017): $50 each

Application Process

The MFE Awards are completely digital. You can register, complete the applicable entry forms, and upload images and floor plans by submitting everything through our two-step process. Please do not mail any materials to our offices.

STEP ONE: Register each entry name and its category and pay the applicable entry fees. You will not be able to edit this information after you've paid, but you'll be forwarded to step two to provide additional information.

STEP TWO: Fill out the required online submission forms by uploading your entry materials. You may also return to this website to add to or modify your entry at a later date before submitting.

Rules and Regulations

Notification: Winners will be notified by early June, but we will not disclose the type of award won (Grand vs. Merit) until the MFE Executive Conference in September.

Judges' Discretion: Entries can win either a Grand or Merit award in each category (except in Hall of Fame, Executive of the Year, and Rising Star of the Year). While projects can be entered for multiple awards, they cannot win multiple awards. In the event a project is selected as a winner in multiple categories, the higher honor will be awarded. Our judges also reserve the right not to award either type of winner in any category. Executive of the Year nominations are considered, but the judges reserve the right to look beyond the nominations in selecting a winner.

Publishing Rights: All materials submitted to the Multifamily Executive Awards program become the property of Multifamily Executive. You must obtain written permission from your photographer(s) to release any images you submit for publication consideration. Multifamily Executive retains the right to consider all nonwinning entries for future publication. Keep a copy of all your entry materials.

Explain how, specifically, your company participated, i.e. donations, employee involvement, etc. (max. 400 words)

Explain the benefits (employee morale, tax deductions, marketing, etc.) the program has brought the company. (max. 300 words)

Materials:

Photographs: (8x10 at 300 dpi for print purposes)

- 4-8 images that show the program highlights

Marketing and Advertising

Submissions should feature new campaigns for the company or for individual communities. Successful submissions will demonstrate not only the community involved, but also how the campaign grabbed residents' attention, as well as express how the campaign affected the company's reputation or community's lease-up.

Information:

- Executive in Charge of Program
- Campaign Name
- Campaign start date
- Campaign end date (may be ongoing)

Supporting Statements:

- Provide a brief background statement on the company nominating its campaign. (max. 200 words)
- State the target audience for the campaign and how the campaign effectively reached that segment. (max. 300 words)
- Describe the campaign in detail, including all promotional items, collateral, or media (e.g., social outlets, websites, SEM, radio, etc.), and an overall estimated cost. Include the ROI for the entire campaign. (max. 400 words)
- List who was involved in creating the campaign, describing all parties' roles. If a third-party firm was involved, describe their participation and provide a name and phone number of a primary contact. (max. 300 words)
- Explain how the campaign benefited lease-up. Please provide specific metrics. (max. 200 words)

Materials:

- 5-12 samples of the advertising and promotional program being submitted, including audio, video, websites, images of logos, and PDFs of print ads and/or flyers.
- Photographs: (8x10 at 300 dpi for print purposes)
 - 2 images of the property or company being promoted in the campaign

Best Amenity

The amenities race is still going strong and developers are finding new ways to delight residents. Submissions for this category will represent bold thinking in amenities, adding value to the community.

Information:

Project Name

Project Location

Executive in Charge of Project (Name, Title, Company)

Developer

Architect

Builder

Project completion date

Estimated total cost (we will withhold from publication)

Supporting Statements:

Describe the amenity. (max. 300 words)

Explain how the amenity meet residents' wants or needs. (max. 300 words)

Identify any unusual constraints or opportunities and describe how they were handled. (max. 300 words)

Provide information on whether the amenity has additional revenue streams. (max. 100 words)

Note whether the amenity was completed through a renovation.

If so, provide information on the previous amenity and how this upgrade adds value to the property (max. 300 words). NOTE: renovation includes projects where a former space of the building was renovated to create a new amenity that was not there before.

Materials:

Photographs: (8x10 at 300 dpi for print purposes)

- 1-5 images of the amenity (if it is a renovated amenity—regardless of whether the amenity itself was renovated or a former section of the building was renovated to create the amenity—provide a “before” image of the former space)

Best Unit Design

As units have gotten smaller, smart use of square footage has become increasingly more important. Submissions in this category should highlight the layout and design of the units and how choices in use of space and finishes add value to the resident. Entrants can submit a single unit type or multiple unit types in a new or renovated building.

Information:

Project Name

Project Location

Executive in Charge of Project (Name, Title, Company)

Developer
